

To Whom It May Concern

Our company, Evermore Translation Service located in Taiwan, has been co-operating with Velior since July 2006. Within this period, we used Velior for translation into Russian in over 100 projects of various sizes.

The projects included marketing content, user manuals, and software strings. Velior translated for us different subject matter such as mobile phones, LCD monitors and TVs, PC accessories and chassis. The translations ranged from a few words to over 10,000 words.

Velior always delivered quality translations to our satisfaction. Where we had any queries, they provided quick answers.

Velior usually agrees with our deadlines, in spite of the fact that our time zones differ by 5 hours. When the deadline is not feasible, they suggest reasonable deadline extension.

As we are satisfied with Velior's translation, we will continue using their services for our existing and potential clients.
